Weekly Individual Report Unit 3 Week 9

Time Dedicated to the Project

I spent about 4-5 hours on the project as of writing this. I plan to spend another 3-5 hours on the project over the weekend. There were some things I had to do for work and other classes so I was working around those responsibilities during the beginning of the week.

Contribution to Project Development Process

This week I spent most of my time working on the presentation. I was writing the slides I was assigned and the script for my portion of the presentation. We had our normal weekly meeting to discuss times to meet to record the presentation and met with our advisor to show her the progress we have made so far. I had to record a demo of our project instead of running the program during the presentation. This is because the computer I use to develop our project doesn't have a webcam, and the computer I use to meet with people that does have a webcam doesn't have all the dependencies needed to run the program.

Demonstration of Applied Knowledge

This week's research and knowledge was mostly becoming more familiar with the backend component of our project. As I am responsible for the front end, I haven't had to use the databases much. I needed to use our documentation and ask team members for help to run the database so I could record the demo.

Reflection

This week is the week I start doing the hard work for our project so I am excited to get started. I feel like I could have spent more time on the actual project this week, but with work, and personal responsibilities, I was only able to work on the presentation this week. I hope to get more done on the project this weekend.
